FrontLine Compliance, LLC Adds New Executive Vice President

Top NASD Investigator to manage business development for firm

ALEXANDRIA, VA (PRWEB) September 12, 2006 – FrontLine Compliance, LLC (FLC) today announces that George “Chip” Arvantides has joined the firm as Executive Vice President. He will oversee all new business development and strategic alliances for the firm.

Prior to joining FrontLine Compliance, George “Chip” Arvantides spent seven years as a Special Investigator with NASD’s Enforcement Department in Washington, D.C. While at NASD, Mr. Arvantides worked on the regulator’s most high profile investigations, including market manipulation, day trading, research – investment banking conflict of interest, email retention, mutual fund market timing, variable annuity suitability, and directed brokerage. In addition, Mr. Arvantides was previously with KPMG LLP as a consultant within their Forensic and Litigation division where he focused on uncovering fraud and funds mismanagement.

“I am so pleased to have Chip join me at FrontLine Compliance. His considerable investigative experience with both small and mid size firms, as well as large financial conglomerates, combined with his business consulting background will strengthen our ability to develop new business relationships and deliver essential services to our clients nationwide.” said Amy Lynch, FrontLine Compliance President.
